PREFACE

This special issue received as submissions the best papers accepted in the 19th IEEE Melecon 2018 conference. The latest is known by its long standing history of excellence both in electrotechnology and in recent years in information and communication technologies as well. This issue has covered complementary thematic areas that hold great promise for the advancement of research and technological development in the solution of complex engineering systems and that provide a platform for the cross fertilization of new ideas and know-how under the special theme of Emerging Applications, Efficient Technologies and Services for the Citizen.

Acknowledgements

The guest editors would like to thank all authors who have submitted their papers to this special issue, and to the reviewers who have dedicated their precious time to provide valuable comments and feedback vital to the enhancement of the quality of the accepted contributions. Our sincere thanks go to the iJIST editorial team and the editorial board for their invaluable support and for helping thoroughly in the process of editing and publishing.
